Scholar~in~Residence Rabbi Arthur Green

Rabbi Novak

Israel Congregation of Manchester and Congregation Beth El Bennington are excited to bring Rabbi Arthur Green to the Northshire for Shabbat Chayei Sara, November 18 and 19. As joint scholar-in-residence, Rabbi Green will be delivering his presentations at both congregations. Entitled Mining the Hasidic Tradition for Contemporary Meanings, Rabbi Green, a founder of the Havurah Movement in the late 1960s, is on a journey of Jewish experimenting. His talks will bring us into his experiences from his ordination at the Jewish Theological Seminary in the 1960s to today. Rabbi Green is a widely admired scholar who will open up for us new meanings into old traditions.

On Friday night, Rabbi Green will speak at ICM during services and at our potluck dinner. Saturday morning, he will speak during services at Beth El and during a kiddush luncheon. On Saturday evening at 7 pm, Rabbi Green will speak at a combined ICM & Beth El dinner in Bennington.

Rabbi Green, who is rector of the post-denominational Rabbinical School of Hebrew College, is a widely respected and deeply accomplished scholar whose work has led him to his current religious outlook of neo-Hasidism. Most recently, Rabbi Green is author of Radical Judaism: Rethinking God and Tradition, which is available in our ICM library. He is an educator and scholar of Jewish mysticism and Hasidism who continues to play an influential role in bringing the language of spirituality into mainstream Jewish life. A former dean of the Reconstructionist Rabbinical College, Rabbi Green is widely credited with being a major influence in Jewish Renewal and Havurah movements.

In honor of Rabbi Green, the ICM Board of Directors will be sponsoring our Shabbat dinner Friday evening, November 18.

Special thanks go to all of the sponsors of this weekend who are making Rabbi Green's appearance at ICM possible.

Please mark your calendar for what promises to be an exciting weekend of learning and community building. Beth El Bennington is located at 107 Adams Street in Bennington.

President's Column

I am both pleased and proud to report that the High Holy Days services were extremely well received, meaningful, and inclusive. I especially want to thank both Rabbi Novak and Cantor Waldman for creating the warmth and good feelings among all those present.

The High Holy Days allowed me the chance to contemplate who we are as a Jewish community, what we value, the meaning Israel Congregation gives to our lives, and the depth of our commitment to our synagogue.

The generosity of our congregants has created a dynamic synagogue, a home that welcomes all of us in this beautiful part of Vermont, a center where we have forged lifelong friendships.

Everyone here has a story about why they are part of our congregation. The stories often begin with how people felt drawn in and welcomed by the warm and friendly atmosphere here. When asked what they value about ICM, congregants mention the words family or community—a perfect metaphor for synagogue life here at Israel Congregation.

We also have been the center for countless activities, celebrations, and events. Many more events are planned in the coming

High Holy Day Donors

The list of our incredibly supportive donors will be in the next Shofar, to include those who continue to pledge as this edition goes to press. Warmest thanks to those who have given; and special thanks to donors who increased their initial pledge – and to those who so generously increased their pledge from last year – over 50% of donors thus far!

Religious School

On September 4, the ICM Religious School welcomed returning and new students to the start of another exciting school year. Keta Aleph kicked off the year with a lesson introducing the Torah and the five books of Moses, as their Judaic Studies lessons will focus on the wonderfully rich stories in the book of B'rei-shit (Genesis). Following their initial Torah lesson the focus was turned to the study of the fall holidays of Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur, Sukkot, and Simchat Torah. Keta Aleph was given the special responsibility of rolling one of the synagogue Torahs back to the beginning, which allowed them to look closely at the paragraphs describing each of the days of creation, as an introduction to their classroom study of the story of Creation.

Moonlight Cross-Country Ski/Snowshoe Evening

Join us on Saturday, February 4, for an evening of cross-country skiing/snowshoeing on the 3 km of lit and groomed trails at the Viking Nordic Center in Londonderry, Vermont. Back by popular demand, the evening promises to be one of fun and adventure. If you've never joined us for this event before, come and see how magical it is to ski and snowshoe in the moonlight.

We'll start the evening at 6 pm with a potluck dinner in one of the toasty warming huts and then take to the trails, where we can ski and snowshoe until 9 pm. With trails that range from easy to more advanced, there is terrain that works for all levels and abilities. The warming hut is ours for the evening, so you can join in this fun event even if the great outdoors is not for you.

Rental equipment is available from Viking for $5 per person. Come to ski/snowshoe or just hang out with friends. The cost will be $10 per person, $20 maximum per immediate family. ICM members and nonmembers are welcome.

SAVE THE DATE

On Friday, December 23, we will celebrate Chanukah and Shabbat with an ICM tradition — the lighting of family menorahs. Each family is encouraged to bring their family menorah(s) and join in the community recitation of the prayers and lighting of the candles.

ICM Reads . . . Spend an Evening in Seville

Join us on December 3 at 7 pm for a journey to medieval Spain. We are fortunate to have Dr. Leyla Rouhi, Professor of Romance Languages at Williams College as our speaker. She is a graduate of Oxford and Harvard, and her research has focused on the presence of Islam in medieval Iberia, the setting of By Fire, By Water, by Mitchell James Kaplan. Dr. Rouhi will give us a fascinating overview of the Jewish presence in Iberia, and relate the book's characters to this historical backdrop.

By Fire, By Water explores the time when Columbus was begging King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella for money to begin his journey to the new world, and Torquemada, the church's infamous Chief Inquisitor, was following the trail of conversos in the king's employ. The novel follows Luis de Santangel, a wealthy and powerful converso, who, despite the danger of being caught, was examining the mystery surrounding his background.

With music of the period to set the mood, we will, as on previous ICM Reads evenings, savor the foods that are part and parcel of the book's setting. The tapas table, with its "small plates," which are traditional in southern Spain, is sure to delight.

So bring your appetite for learning more about a fascinating piece of Jewish history, and your hunger for interesting foods—and your friends—to this fun annual event.

The book is available at ICM for $10. Call Karen to reserve your copy.

EXCEPTIONAL GIFTS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

Come to ICM's Crafts & Art Fair November 13

Sunday, November 13, brings 18 exceptional artisans to ICM for a Crafts & Art Fair—back by popular demand—which runs from 10 am to 4 pm. Come early for the best selections in exquisite beaded jewelry, elegant handmade shoes, whimsical fabric dolls, sophisticated necklaces and earrings, breathtaking art glass, custom-crafted knitted sweaters, traditional "sponge ware" pottery, hand-turned wood ware, eye-catching fabric quilts, unique "piqué assiette" mosaic pieces, photography, totes/bags/wine carriers, watercolors, and (of course) Chanukah necessities. There are items in all price ranges for people of all ages! For more information, contact Lynne Abcug at 802-297-1946.

President's Column

months: the Rabbi Arthur Green seminar, our crafts fair, film festivals, ICM Reads, Talmud classes, and the annual Martin Luther King Day commemoration. These programs and many others create informative, timely, stimulating, and life-affirming experiences here at Israel Congregation.

It takes a tremendous amount of energy and financial resources to sustain our vibrant community. Please take a moment to reflect how blessed we are to have this wonderful synagogue, how fortunate we are to enjoy what we have together. Give to this synagogue with your heart and you will receive it back tenfold.

Finally, please allow me to express my heartfelt gratitude to all the volunteers listed on page 3 who helped make this year's High Holy Days a vibrant and inspirational experience.

I hope that the year 5772 brings peace, happiness, and prosperity to your family.

Support ICM When You Shop

Here is a way to help Israel Congregation while "doing what you already do." When you are going to make a purchase at Amazon.com, just go to our website instead and complete the purchase there . . . and a portion of the sale automatically goes to ICM. We have a similar arrangement with the Northshire Bookstore. Instead of buying your books at Northshire or on the Northshire website . . . go to www.icmvt.org and make your purchase there, and a portion of that sale comes back to us.

Remember to visit the website often for the latest news from ICM and for an easy way to help support our synagogue while "doing what you already do."

The Tree of Life on the wall in our Social Hall is adorned with leaves that commemorate events in the lives of our congregants. To inscribe your family event or Simcha call Karen in the synagogue office at 802.362.4578.
